

Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs (1943)

Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs is very useful in determining where you are currently and where you want to be. Like the stages of change, it is not a linear process and you can move up and down.

From this exercise, you can then create your Hierarchy of Values, basically one drives the other.

